

The next regular meeting of the PSC will be Thursday, March 14, 7:30 PM at the NORTHSIDE Branch of the Hamilton National Bank.

Headlining the program will be a recorded, illustrated lecture, "Presenting Agfachrome - the best to you - In Color". Having made all original photographs especially for this presentation, Mr. A. C. Shelton narrates and explains the use of Agfachrome in all kinds of weather under all kinds of conditions. Mr. Shelton is well known to many PSC members.

Remember to bring your entries for the March assignment contest. This contest is "Portraits". Limits are four of each category - B & W prints; Color Prints; and Color Slides. Anyone not submitting an entry in this contest is a weasel-faced, yellow-bellied bird-watcher. There aren't any restrictions concerning the date the portraits were shot except glass plate negatives and must not have been entered in a previous PSC contest.

Bill Duncan suggests that anyone having extra prints or slides they would like to present to the models who so kindly posed at our last shooting session should bring these to this next meeting.

Society note: Six of the local Club members have recently returned from Bulls Island in the Cape Romain National Wildlife Refuge located about 20 miles northeast of Charleston, S. C. Bill Duncan, Fred Hines, Tom Anderson, Ray Parks, R. T. Smith, and your humble Bulletin Editor came back with real good pictures of red ears, frosty breath, and frozen tail feathers.

Remember next meeting at Northside Branch, Thursday, March 14.

P. S. Ray Parks and Bob Smith will be set up to take your picture as you enter. Look your best!
